Christmas Greeting Cards

The Sentinel has the agency for the Wrangell district for one of the largest and best known engraving houses in the United States, and is ready to receive orders for anything in that line including Christmas Greeting cards exquisitely engraved in the latest letterings. Call and look over an elegant line of samples. Remember orders should be placed early.

The first nurse to graduate from a course of training at an Alaskan hospital was Miss Josephine Scott, who completed a three-year course early this week at the Government hospital in Juneau under Miss LeRoy, matron of the institution. Miss Scott is a Native girl from Hydaburg and a graduate of the Sheldon Jackson school at Sitka.

Home Coming of Elks Was a Noisy Event

The eleven Wrangell men who were initiated into the Elks at Ketchikan Friday night had the time of their lives. To tell all that they did, or rather all that was done to them, would be rather too shocking to put into print. However, the Bills did not leave all the fun behind. Upon their arrival here they pulled a few stunts that would rank with those of a regularly organized circus.

Elks everywhere look upon the newlyweds of their herd as deserving of special attention. And no one has heard Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Campbell complain of having been neglected at Ketchikan or on their homeward voyage from the First City.

When the Alameda arrived on Saturday afternoon almost the entire populace was at the dock. As the steamer sailed into port the music aboard, both vocal and instrumental was sufficient indication of the gay spirits of the fun loving passengers, a goodly number of whom happened to be Elks.

Ernest Campbell was dressed up in stripes as a convict and handcuffed. An improvised cell was unloaded from the steamer and placed on Harry McCormack's auto truck. Ernest was then led down the gangplank and placed in the cell. The bride was escorted from the boat and given a seat beside the driver of the truck. The couple were then driven to the Campbell residence with a procession of Elks and small boys marching behind. Tin cans, triangles, drums and trumpets were among the articles employed in making a storm of inharmonious sounds.

When Ernest left home to get married he little dreamed that he would return to Wrangell in the stripes of a convict. This punishment was meted out to him for his consarnedness in not having told the boys about it beforehand in order that they might celebrate both before and after. This is not the first time the Elks have found it necessary to put one of their number in stripes for committing matrimony without giving due notice beforehand in accordance with the rules and regulations. But even though a Bill ignores this rule he finds that his Brother Elks are, after all, ready and willing to do everything in their power to make the great event "the most impressive time in a man's life."

NOTICE

The Niblack Islands are leased and stocked as a fox farm. Hunters and trappers please keep off.

J. J. Fowler who has a resort at Hot Springs on the Stikine says that about three weeks ago he had a net out for cohoes, when a large grizzly pulled the net in on shore, took the fish out, or nearly all, ate what he wanted and left the rest on shore, and then supposedly went to bed. The next night he came back and finished the fish and set the net again. Mr. Fowler states that owing to not being well known in Wrangell he is not sure that the people here will believe the last part of the story. Last Sunday night the bear came again and turned over the smokehouse and took a lot of meat and fish, and broke the side in. However, he did not set the house up again.

The Moose lodge is now meeting every Friday night instead of twice a month.

Industrial War On In England; Million Men Out

LONDON — Rioting on the streets of London in which two policemen and several civilians were injured, ushered in the first day of England's great coal miners' strike Monday.

More than 1,000,000 miners are idle, Britain's coal industry is at a standstill and the nation is fearfully facing industrial chaos unequalled even in the gloomiest days of the world war. Pessimism is felt everywhere despite Premier David Lloyd George's promise that everything will be done to keep the vital industries operating.

Walter J. Larson Invents Piston Cooling Device For Gas Engines

Walter J. Larson of Wrangell, who two years ago obtained a patent on a fish trap, has recently invented a piston-cooling device for internal-combustion engines.

Mr. Larson's invention comprises an improvement in water cooled pistons with a supply of cooling water. While the invention is described as using water for cooling purposes, any suitable fluid may be used. The invention may also be used with many types of engines and it is not the intention of the inventor to limit its application to any particular type.

The object of the invention is to provide a piston-cooling device of few parts, and one which will eliminate excessive vibration and leakage.

Copper River Natives in Distress

There will be a meeting held in Eagle lodge room tomorrow night at eight o'clock for the purpose of relieving the destitute condition of the Natives of the Copper river valley. Everybody is invited to attend. P. L. Schmartz, who is in charge of the Government school at Chitina, will be present and tell the exact condition of these people.—Cordova Times.

Five Killed in Auto Accident

PORTLAND, Ore.—On Monday police were dragging the Sandy river east of here for the bodies of five Portland men who are believed to have drowned when an auto, in which they were occupants, plunged off the Columbia Highway at a point skirting the river, late yesterday.

The unfortunate quintette were: M. D. McDonald, Walter McDonald, Alexander McDonald, Richard McIntosh, and Edward Harty. All were prominent in business here.

Former Mayor Ole Hanson Used Roughly In Liverpool

LIVERPOOL — Ole Hanson, tempestuous ex-mayor of Seattle, walks with a cane since attempting to start a rival soap box meeting on the Liverpool docks, while a battery of communist speakers were expounding the doctrine of casting slurs on the United States. The audience divided and a riot resulted. By the time the police could intervene Mayor Ole was mugged up and his clothes smeared with mud. His foot was injured.

Mrs. Wm. Wright, whose husband passed away in Wrangell last Thursday, departed on the City of Seattle yesterday for Ketchikan where she will have her husband's will probated. After a short stay in Ketchikan Mrs. Wright will return to Sulzer.

A verdict of guilty was returned Friday afternoon by the jury in the case of the United States vs. Chester Worthington, a Native, charged with violation of the fishing laws. The case started before Judge Jennings on Thursday morning and went to the jury shortly before 3 o'clock on Friday.—Capital.

In response to several inquiries Mrs. John T. Towers wishes to announce that she will accept a limited number of pupils in singing at her residence on Cassiar street. The Italian method is used. A pre-war rate of three dollars per lesson payable monthly in advance will be charged. A special rate of $35 per month for three lessons per week is offered those wishing to advance quickly. Mrs. Towers will exchange vocal instruction with any young lady in return for assistance with the house work.

Two Yukoners, Dan McLean and Walter Johnson were chased by a big grizzly bear a short time ago. The men won the race after they had discarded all excess baggage in the way of packs and clothing. The event was featured on the picturesque banks of the Stewart river.

Fatigue Cause Of Disease; Rest the Cure

That Fact Being Admitted, It Follows That the Best of All Cures Is Rest.

From time to time somebody proposes the "rest cure" for all maladies, and for a time we hear a great deal of it. Then the subject is dropped, and little appears in the public prints concerning its value. But invariably it comes up again, and the "rest cure" is advocated for all manner of ailments.

Just why we should not go ahead and accept it as a fact that the best treatment for most diseases is rest, we do not know. It is well settled in science as anything pertaining to diseases that absolute rest is of the greatest benefit; that most diseases are the actual result of fatigue of one kind or another. The human body is able to take care of itself when it is not tired; it cannot take care of itself when it is overworked, no matter how many drugs are poured into it.

There is a splendid work to be done by the physicians in the matter of teaching the people how to rest. Not one person in a hundred understands it. Unless the average person actually feels fatigued, he doesn't realize that his body is tired—or that his mind and nervous system are crying for rest. The average person doesn't know there is anything the matter with him unless he feels pain, and yet there are many maladies that are not accompanied by pain.

FAMOUS PALACE AND JAIL

Historic Tower of London Easily "Most Ancient and Most Poetic Pile in Europe."

Palace and prison, once noted also for its menagerie and its pageantry, birthplace and death house of monarchs, scene of hairbreadth escapes and reputed hidden treasures, ghostly in its memories of tortures and killing and sacred for its martyrs, the Tower of London amply warrants description as the "most ancient and most poetic pile in Europe," reads a bulletin of the National Geographic society.

William the Conqueror gave London a charter, but built the White tower to show the people how little that charter might mean. Like the English constitution the rambling London Tower of today is a product of centuries, and not one, but many towers, are now scattered over some 13 acres. The site had been a fortress since Roman times.

To the Middle Tower Elizabeth came back a queen five years after her jealous half sister, Mary, had kept her there a prisoner. The humpbacked Richard III hired three assassins to murder his nephews in Bloody tower. Not until years later were their bones found and taken to Westminster abbey.

Lady Jane Grey, she who "had the birth of a princess, the life of a saint, and the death of a malefactor," was beheaded in London tower.

Fraudulent Old Clocks.

The brass lantern clocks of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries have made a strong appeal to collectors, and this fact has led to the manufacture of replicas of the old clocks. When these are sold frankly as replicas, there is nothing to be said against such a practice; but, unfortunately, the matter does not stop here and too often the attempt is made to palm off an imitation as a genuine old clock. Famous makers' names are added and various expedients adopted to make the new clock pass muster as an old one. Such frauds are deplorable from every point of view, and the ignorance of many collectors makes success possible. Every one, it is obvious, cannot possess a genuine old clock. It would be well if this fact were faced, and the clocks bought simply as reproductions, by all those who are not in a position to make reasonably sure that they are really purchasing a genuine old English clock.—Christian Science Monitor.

Quackery Sometimes Effective.

"Faith and foolishness will cure any disease," says the cynic, and judging by some instances of miraculous whole-sale cures, there seems to be some ground for the assertion.

There is the historical episode of the prince of Orange, for instance, who during one of his campaigns, cured those of his soldiers who were dying of the scurvy by a piece of quackery.

With his doctors, who were in the secret, he said he had procured a medicine—really a decoction of camomile, wormwood and camphor—of the greatest rarity and value from the East. It was so strong that two or three drops would impart a healing virtue to a gallon of water. The men took the medicine with faith and cheerful faces, and, so historians tell us, grew well rapidly.

Adjutant and Mrs. Carruthers To Leave Here

Adjutant and Mrs. W. J. Carruthers, who have had charge of the Salvation Army work in Alaska for the past two years, with headquarters at Wrangell, have received notice that they will be transferred to another field after the first of November.

This news comes as a keen disappointment, not only to the people of Wrangell, but of all South-eastern Alaska. As a supervisor of the Native work Adjutant Carruthers has been most successful. During the two years that he has been making the rounds of the Native villages he has accomplished a great deal of good, and has come to be regarded by the Native officers as their friend and counselor.

The Salvation Army work will be continued in Wrangell, but the new workers will not have supervision over any other corps. Recently the Northern territory was redistricted. The new North Pacific district embraces Northern British Columbia, Alaska and the Yukon, with headquarters at Ketchikan.

The Carruthers do not know yet to what field they will be sent, but wherever they go, they will carry with them the deep regard and well wishes of the people of Southeastern Alaska in general and of Wrangell in particular.

Alaska is favored with numerous deep water harbors open the year round with comparatively smooth water and is advantageously located with reference to shipments to the Orient, South America and Australia.

The largest run of caribou ever seen in the North recently went through the Forty-Mile country according to a report received by the Governor from Game Warden Protzman of Fairbanks. He states that the hills around Eagle and Forty-Mile were black with the moving animals. Estimates of the number run as high as a million, but the game warden believes this number an exaggeration.

"Alaska is full of romance and as great a field for the short story writer or novelist today as it was in the days of the dance hall," so says Frank Richardson Pierce, who was in the North recently, visiting Valdez, Seward, Anchorage, Chickaloon, Esko and Kodiak. Wherever he has gone he said he found rich material for stories.

Gordon's Defense of Khartum.

For sheer duration General Gordon's heroic defense of Khartum excelled all modern sieges, for it lasted 317 days, or just nine days shorter than the Russian retention of Sebastopol. Unfortunately, as we all know, its termination was a tragedy, embittered by the fact that a very few days later the would-be army of relief arrived, only in time to pick up the threads of a pitiful disaster.

Norway House, Man.—Foxes are reported by trappers and Indians as unusually plentiful throughout the Canadian north.

There are eight kinds of foxes taken in Canada for their fur. These are silver, black, red, kit, cross, blue and white foxes.

Despite the inroads made by trappers, the race of foxes seems in no danger of being wiped out. North America furnishes annually an average of 200,000 red fox-skins, 50,000 gray fox, 5,000 silver and black fox, 15,000 cross fox and 6,000 blue fox.

OFFICIAL RECORD OF GAME KILLED IN THE CASSIAR DISTRICT FOR YEAR 1920

[The following is a partial list of the game killed in the Cassiar during the past season. The list is incomplete for the reason that we publish only official measurements, and therefore a complete list is not possible until all hunters have returned and submitted their bags for official inspection. In the following list the measurements were copied from the records in the office of the provincial game warden, Hon. W. H. Dodd of Telegraph Creek. Mr. Dodd gave his written opinion recently that certain big game is steadily on the increase in certain parts of the Cassiar.]

If in February, a humane and affectionate wife and tender mother.

If in March, a frivolous chatterbox, somewhat given to quarreling.

If in April, inconstant, not intelligent, but likely to be good-looking.

If in May, handsome and likely to be happy.

If in June, impetuous, will marry early and be frivolous.

If in July, passably handsome, but with a sulky temper.

If in August, amiable and practical, and likely to marry rich.

If in September, discreet, affable and much liked.

If in October, pretty and coquettish, and likely to be unhappy.

If in November, liberal, kind, of a mild disposition.

Twelve Year Old Boy Kills Brown Bear

The killing of a large brown bear by one of the youngest hunters in the Gastineau Channel took place recently when Johnny Long, 12 year old son of Lowes Long, a member of the crew of the Ambassador, shot and killed a bear on the beach by his home at Seymore Canal. Young Long had been along the banks of King Salmon river with a party of berry pickers and just as the rowboat in which they were returning neared the Long homestead the bear was seen on the beach. Standing up in the boat Johnny fired a shot at the bear. The bullet took effect just above the eyeball and the bear fell, dying almost immediately.

Fox Farming on Increase All Over Alaska and Yukon

On the return of the Thistle on Tuesday, she brought in five crates containing 13 foxes, from 100-mile landing. These are from the ranch owned by W. A. Puckett, Bill Geary and George Enderby. They will be placed in the Eisenhauer ranch, which was lately acquired by J. Geary. Mrs. Geary and son Lyle will care for them, while Mr. Geary continues in charge of the Whitney ranch across the river.—Whitehorse Star.

Renewed developments in the fox farming industry in Southeastern Alaska is told by Lee Harpole of St. Elias light, who was in Juneau recently. Two islands, Inian and Lemesurer, near Icy Straits, have been stocked, and one other island is to be restocked.

Boy Is Badly Injured By Brown Bear

Charlie James, a Sitka Native boy aged 19, was brought to Sitka last night suffering from about 30 wounds inflicted by a brown bear. J. Howard Bailey, one of the most experienced Native guides and hunters in that section, and three others were camping in the Hoonah Sound district while smoking salmon. Being in need of meat the party went hunting deer. They started up a hill, and shortly afterward, when separated, Bailey heard the boy's cry for help and saw him in the mouth of a big brown bear. The bear was running and carrying the boy. Upon catching sight of Bailey the bear dropped the boy and began chewing him. Bailey could not fire without endangering the boy's life but finally succeeded in driving the bear away. He fired at him while running but did not kill him. Dr. Pigg stated that the boy will probably recover unless blood poisoning sets in. All the wounds are mostly on the back.

The Kantishna district and Mt. McKinley will figure in a five reel picture of Alaska life, which is being filmed by Ralph Straub, moving picture expert who recently left for that district to secure scenes of game and other things. Straub recently secured excellent pictures of the caribou run.

There's a "Hi-Press" Boot or Shoe for Any Service

The line is quite complete. We have studied the various services which call for unusually severe usage and have built just the "Hi-Press" Boot or Shoe that serves best. Three of our most popular styles are shown here, but the line ranges far beyond these—boots and shoes for every need.

Users are undoubtedly getting more in wear and all around service from Goodrich "Hi-Press" Rubber Footwear than they ever got from footwear before. "Hi-Press" is known all over the world—that wonderfully tough rubber is cutting down footwear bills in South America, Australia, and Europe just as it is here at home.

You get this better footwear at the same figure you have to pay for other brands, and it saves so much in the end. Protect yourself—insist that your next pair have the mark of the genuine—the Red Line 'Round the Top. 60,000 Dealers.

WONDERFUL ANIMAL, THE GNU

And Voice Would Seem to Be Not the Least of His Remarkable Qualities.

Few people know what a satisfactory animal is the gnu. Quite a number of hoofed animals, like the ibex and the sacred ox, are mere tiresome combinations of Burbankism, but the gnu has qualities all his own. His head is homely as an unpainted barn—flat nose and very broad mouth and ears misshapen and uncouth. His body is that of an exceedingly powerful pony, with strong neck and rakish tail. His galvanic energy puts to shame the glorious abandon of a cat on a tin roof.

When I arrive before his inclosure he has usually retired to the shed in which he sleeps and stands in the doorway with far-away eyes. Efforts to entice him forth are futile. I turn at last as if to go, and as I move he bursts forth with the most heathenish cry that ever clattered from an animal throat. If it resembles anything, it is the trench klaxon that warns of an impending gas attack—a series of staccato shrieks which would shake the teeth from a band saw. I don't see how he can stand the noise he makes. Arm a rabbit with the voice of a gnu and lions will slink from his path.

Reaching the bars of his inclosure in three or four astounding leaps, the gnu halts, with head averted and feet wide apart, ignoring me literally. When I move to right or left he remains motionless until 15 feet are between us; then he closes the distance with a bound, shrieks terribly twice or thrice, and once more affects to be utterly oblivious of my presence. When finally I leave him the clatter of his fearful voice pursues me for hundreds of feet, drowning all other sounds.—Atlantic Monthly.

HONOR HELD BY QUAKER CITY

First American Edition of the Hebrew Scriptures Was Put in Type in Philadelphia.

The first American edition of the Hebrew Scriptures was put in type at Philadelphia by William Fry.

The first translation of the Scriptures into English by a Jewish scholar in America was that of Isaac Leeser of Philadelphia in 1833, and the first English version prepared by a group of Jewish scholars is that of the Jewish Publication Society of America, Philadelphia, 1917.

One of the most important and widely used revisions of the Rheims-Donay version was that of Archbishop Kendrick of Philadelphia, 1851-62.

Ben Franklin didn't think the language of the King James version sufficiently up to date to suit the literati of his time, and he tried his improving hand on the Book of Job with this result:

"And it being levee day in heaven, all God's nobility came to court to present themselves before him; and Satan also appeared in the circle, as one of the ministry. And God said to Satan: You have been a long time absent; where were you? And Satan answered: I have been at my country seat, and in different places visiting my friends."

School Notes

The freshman class organized last week, electing Donald Sinclair as president, James Schelp, vice president and John Coulter, secretary.

There was a joint celebration of Alaska and Columbus days in the assembly last Friday. The officers of the freshman class presided over the assembly. There was a program given by the freshmen, followed by patriotic songs. At the close of the assembly there were quite a number of interesting speeches made by the visitors. The visitors were Mrs. McCormack, Mrs. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Bromley, and Mr. Carruthers.

The first basket ball game of the season was played last Wednesday evening between the Lazy Five and Wrangell High. The Lazy Five defeated the Wrangell High by one point in a fast and very exciting game.

Miss May Crosno received a letter from the Northwestern Division of the Junior Red Cross. It stated that the Wrangell school was the third to respond to the roll call out of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and Alaska. Ketchikan was the first.

George Gunderson has been appointed reporter for the Alaska Daily Capital for this vicinity.

The High School bought through John Fanning 28 volumes of literature from Mr. Clark's library with part of the proceeds of the last dance.

Mr. Sutherland has lived in Alaska over twenty years and is well known in all sections, having served for eight years in the Alaska Legislature as Senator from the Fourth division

It is now assured that the result of the November election will be a victory for the Republican party, and it is desirable that the Delegate from Alaska should be of the party in power

Over sixty million
breakfasts with Maple
Karo last year

Does it interest you to know that Maple Karo outsells all different kinds of maple syrups? Delicious flavor—moderate price the reason

Two big reasons stand out for the record breaking sales of Maple Karo.

First—the flavor of Maple Karo is not an "imitation." The makers are the world's largest users of the purest and best flavored maple sugar.

Over a thousand tons are brought annually from Vermont and Canada—where the finest maple trees grow.

This sugar is used to make Maple Karo and to give it its delicious flavor.

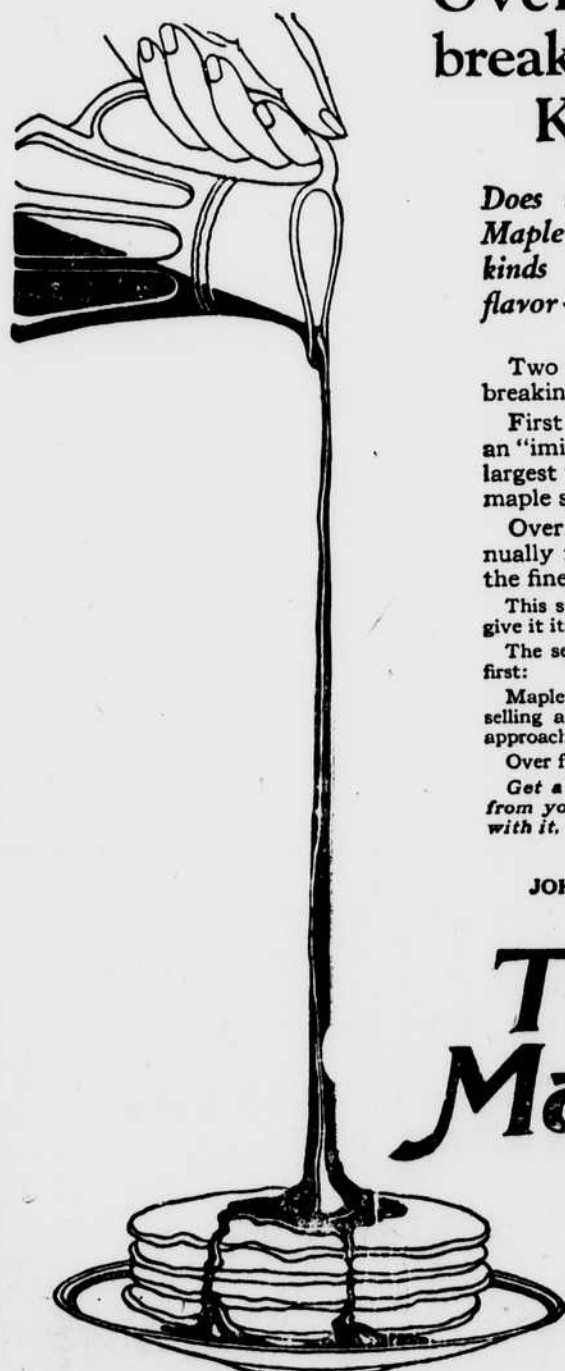

The second reason is quite as interesting as the first:

Maple Karo is remarkably moderate in price—selling at a lower price than any other syrup of approaching quality and flavor.

Over five million cans were sold last year. Get a can of Maple Karo in the GREEN CAN from your grocer today. If you are not pleased with it, the grocer will gladly return your money.
